Oil Tractor Demonstration

A. M. Gibbs, representative of the International Harvester Co., was at Dixon Springs first of the week and gave a demonstration of an 8-16 oil tractor in farm work use. The demonstration was made on the farm of Tom Beasley. The engine was attached to a bottom plow, cutting thirty inches of soil nine inches deep. After plowing the engine was hitched to a double disc harrow, followed by a peg harrow, and at the same time, putting plowed land in perfect condition for drilling oats. The engine was then attached to a No. 5 Sandwich corn sheller, which has a capacity of 250 to 350 bushels per hour. All the demonstrations were highly successful and the engine proved that it should be in the hands of all good farmers. Mr. T. J. Pullias was in charge of the engine and made the machine undergo any test that was called for. So satisfactory was the demonstration Mr. Beasley gave his check for the engine rather than have the machine leave his farm. It is his intention to have the engine do all the heavy portion of his farm work.

Big, Delightful Surprise

What a big, delightful surprise we had at "Willow Brook" last Saturday afternoon! Like pearls out of a cloudy sky five of the fairest, sweetest Carthage High School girls—Almeda Kennedy, Willie Dean, Georgia Duke, Annie Louise Wright, Neille Alexander—damp clear through to their "personality" from the unfriendly shower by which they were overtaken on their tramp from the Capitol of Smith county, made their appearance with frolicking glee and announced their arrival with peals of joyous laughter of youth irresistible contagious. Warm fires were quickly going, dry garments donned, after some darning; then with keen relish, appetite sharpened to finest point that a nine-mile tramp through pure air can put on—well, it did the soul good to see the substantial supper disappear through those rosy lips. And how they danced, laughed and frolicked 'till a late hour with joy uncon-

And how the melody of those beautiful snores in the wee sma' hours of the night floated through the rooms softly creeping through the kitchen into the outer world to be wafted away on the gentle zephyrs. Something had to waft them away, they were coming too thick—then the breakfast bell rang. "The longest day is in June, they say. The shortest is in December; It don't seem to me that way—The shortest I remember Is when they came and stayed a day. And filled our hearts with laughter; The longest day they went away—Was the next day after." J. L. Alexander.
